

We Developed a One-Stop Solution for a Software Solutions Company

About The Client

Our client is a cloud computing and mobile solutions provider specializing in assisting small and medium-sized construction businesses. Their PIMeo platform streamlines construction project management from start to finish, handling document management, costs control, operations tracking, and quality checks. They offer project management services and training to ensure operational and financial efficiency. Our client has a 20-year track record of helping businesses grow and prosper through PIMeo's use.

Industry:
Software Solutions

Location:
Ireland, Dublin

Solution: To maintain, improve & develop software services & infrastructure

Partnership Tenure:
Over One Year Now

Technologies: Net, React Native, Angular

The Business Need!

Our client faced coding inconsistencies and glitches with their PIMeo system developed by multiple freelancers, thus seeking one-stop offshore web development partners to stabilize and enhance the system's functionality and acquire customers. In addition, they wanted to collaborate with experienced developers to strengthen their market position.

How did Clarion Create Value for the Client?

Our client relied on Clarion's reputation for providing top-notch web developers to manage the PIMeo system fully. Here is how Clarion's highly skilled developers added value:

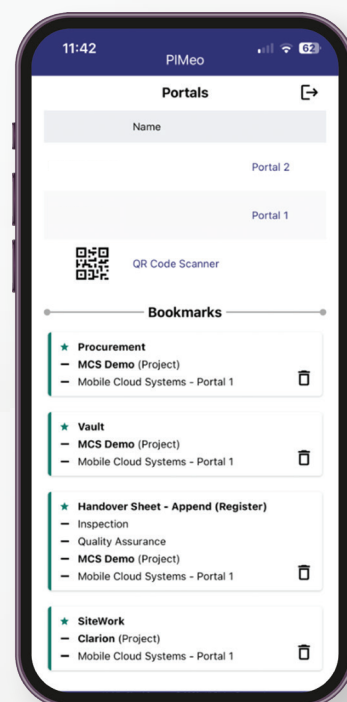

Overall System Stabilization and Optimisation:

Our client faced central system stability and optimization issues, resolved by Clarion's experienced developers, who combed and addressed concerns while optimizing the system. The team built a reliable system quickly, providing a trouble-free user experience.

Cross-Platform accessibility:

Clarion collaborated with client to make PIMeo accessible on multiple platforms, including Android and iOS, with a consistent user experience. Clarion's developers delivered a consistent PIMeo experience on the mobile apps to meet the client's business requirements.

Introduced the Form /Checklist Functionality:

Team Clarion addressed the end customer demand to add the functionality of uploading forms and creating checklists in the existing PIMEo system across different platforms. The team diligently worked on adding the form/checklist functionality that enabled clients to build structures/checklists that met their Quality Assurance, Health & Safety, and general requirements.

Agile Project Management Approach:

Our client sought Clarion's Project Management team to meet their changing business needs. Clarion recommended agile methodologies and implemented the Kanban approach to optimize workflow, reduce waste, and improve productivity. The team also established a rigorous system of daily calls, weekly reviews, ticket prioritization, strategic scheduling, and frequent releases to ensure efficiency and rigor in every project delivery.

Business Outcome

Agile Project Management Approach:

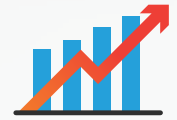

New PIMEo system features and agile bug-fixing enhanced customer confidence. In addition, the system's stability, performance, and user-friendliness improved, increasing business revenues and new customer acquisitions.

Agile Project Management Approach:

Clarion developers helped Our client achieve its customer-centric goals by suggesting frequent releases and adding new functionalities based on category benchmarks. These tactics resulted in our client offering more excellent value to its construction business clients, increasing efficiency, quality, ease of documentation, and cost savings. In addition, the agile approach elevated its brand imagery as an elegant and customer-centric brand.

Agile Project Management Approach:

Our client migration to Clarion's experienced team of developers resulted in increased cost-effectiveness and productivity. By dealing with one dedicated team instead of multiple freelancers, they saved time and effort in fixing frequent glitches. Clarion's project management team demonstrated high ownership and accountability, allowing our client to focus on core operations and expansion.

The Way Forward!

We understand you want to grow your business and save time and money. That's why we're here: to help you realize your goals quickly and efficiently. We have extensive web development expertise, top talent, and robust quality-focused processes that have made us the preferred choice globally.

This faith keeps us driving to create unmatched value for our client being one of them. Take a quantum leap in your mobile and web development project with Clarion Technologies!

Get in Touch

We have worked on numerous web development projects and developed expertise in creating mobile apps that meet our client's requirements.

If you are looking for dependable web development partners, why settle for anything less than the best? Join hands with Clarion Technologies and take a quantum leap in your mobile and web development project! You will be more than satisfied with the results.